

Animal Recovery Mission's Response to the Newton's Prosecutors Office Unfounded Statement

JUNE 18, 2019 - On June 4 and 12, 2019, the Animal Recovery Mission (ARM) released two undercover investigations of operations at Fair Oaks Farms and the Fairlife Corporation. The extreme and systematic abuse to newborn animals and mother dairy cows has gone viral, and the public is outraged. Now, the Newton's Prosecutors Office is trying to discrete our work with unfounded and bogus claims.

"The statement sent out by the Newton County's Prosecutors Office that an ARM Investigator coerced or encouraged the abuse of innocent animals at Fair Oaks Farms, couldn't be further from the truth. The Newton County Sheriff's and Prosecutors Office has yet to reach out to Animal Recovery Mission's main witness in this case for any additional statement. For prosecutors to release such an unfounded and bogus information that is part of an open and ongoing criminal case, is not only unprofessional, but irresponsible, as it could have a negative effect on this very important criminal case. It is apparent that this prosecutor is attempting to divert public attention away from Fair Oaks Farms and Mike McCloskey in order to create doubt on a professionally put together investigation into Newton County. Once again, the Animal Recovery Mission is reaching out to both the Sheriff's and Prosecutors Office to give our first formal statements".
