JUNE 20, 2019 - By putting out a statement that the state's main and only witness was the reasoning for the abuse taking place to innocent animals at Fair Oaks Farms and the Fairlife Corporation, Newton County Prosecutor Drinski has seemingly and purposely sabotaged the prosecution side of this Fair Oaks Farms animal cruelty case.

As Animal Recovery Mission (ARM) operatives continue to investigate Prosecutor Jeff Drinski, ARM has recently made the following connections:

- Jeff Drinski's daughter, Karlie Drinski is currently employed as a tour guide at Fair Oaks Farms Dairy Adventure
- The Drinski family has been involved and directly profited from the dairy industry in Indiana
- The Drinski Family is a member of "We Stand With Fair Oaks Farms", a social media group in support of Fair Oaks Farms versus the abuse of innocent animals: <https://www.facebook.com/StandwithFairOaks/>
- Drinski family owns and operates Meadow Oaks Angus www.meadowoaksangus.com, directly profiting from the raising and slaughter of beef cattle for human consumption and possibly getting cattle from Fair Oaks Farms: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9DpNJKiDfjw>

Due to the reasons mentioned above, until this case is reassigned outside Newton and Jasper Counties, so that it may be handled fairly and without bias, the Animal Recovery Mission will not work directly with Prosecutor Jeffrey Drinski.

The Animal Recovery Mission will continue its investigation into Newton County Prosecutor Jeff Drinski and his connections with Fair Oaks Farms and the Fairlife Corporation.

"It is clear that Prosecutor Drinski has taken an obvious stance in this case favoring the defense rather than the state of Indiana. At first I was grasping to understand Drinski's motive for releasing statements discrediting the Animal Recovery Mission, but after looking deeper into his connections with fair oaks farms, things are now that much clearer." - Richard 'Kudo' Couto (ARM)
