(WISH) – Tuesday, the animal activist group that looked into Fair Oaks Farm and Fairlife Milk released details on another dairy farm case.

Animal Recovery Mission (ARM) held a news conference to release video of alleged abuse shot by an undercover worker for the group.

The video was reportedly from Natural Prairie in Texas. According to ARM, it's the largest organic dairy farm in the country.

Activists said the cows suffered 'extreme' abuse. The group is calling on grocery stores to pull milk from Natural Prairie from its shelves.

Fairlife Corporation issued a statement saying it does not source milk from the farm in the video.
